Inside the T-1 TYPHOON

The T-1 Typhoon Anti-Rex Helicopter was built to take down even the biggest and nastiest city-stomping dinosaurs. With its powerful armor and an arsenal of anti-dino hardware, this high-speed vehicle may be our best hope of stopping the dino menace once and for all.

High-torque dampening coils convert rotor noise for near-silent stealth operations mode.

Shielded cockpit provides heads-up piloting data and feedback-enhanced flight controls.

Carboard Tail ON-9 sensor system provides full navigational data in night, snow, rain and fog.

Computerized Newton-J5 tail stabilizer maintains level flight in hostile conditions.

Electro-solar energy collectors absorb radiant heat and light to power Sonic Beam Emitters.

Heat-shielded, laser-reflective armor plating defends against the dino's toughest weapons.

Omni-directional PLARXX Radar Ray scrambles Pteranodon senses to knock them from the air.

Twin rotating Quintronic Sonic Beam Emitters pacify aggressive reptiles with high-frequency sound waves.

XL-4 Voltaic Launcher packs a major charge in its compressive power cells.

EXO-FORCE

A dynamic action scene featuring a large, complex LEGO Exo-Force mech in the center, constructed from various grey, black, and white Technic parts. It has multiple articulated arms and legs, some ending in claw-like structures. The mech is set against a fiery orange and yellow background with streaks of light. In the lower right, a large, dark, cylindrical structure, possibly a tank or a base, is partially visible. The overall composition is energetic and emphasizes the mechanical complexity and combat theme of the Exo-Force line.

AND THE GOBLET OF FIRE

THE DURMSTRANG SHIP ON THE BIG SCREEN!
EXCLUSIVE BEHIND-THE-SCENES MOVIE FACTS

The Triwizard Tournament is about to begin when a mysterious ship rises from the lake near Hogwarts Castle. The flags on the ship make it clear that the Durmstrang Institute has arrived!

If you thought the LEGO Harry Potter Durmstrang Ship was big, you won't believe this! The ship seen in Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire is approximately 85 feet long!

The only part of the ship that was actually built for the movie was the tip of the bow with the figurehead. The rest of the ship that you see on the screen is completely computer generated. You could never tell, though! That's because the people in charge of the film's special effects worked for 7 months to make the Durmstrang Ship look real enough to set sail.

Speaking of real ships, does the Durmstrang Ship look like any other ship you've seen before? Here's a hint: Christopher Columbus. That's right! The Durmstrang ship was actually modeled after the Santa Maria, the ship on which Christopher Columbus was sailing when he found America in 1492!

Now that you know all about the Durmstrang Ship, you can build one of your own. Drop anchor and come aboard the surprise-filled Durmstrang Ship from the LEGO Harry Potter collection! Take a tour with Professor Karkaroff and Viktor Krum, Harry's rival for the Triwizard Cup. At an impressive 21 inches tall and 20 inches long, there's no telling what you might find on the ship!

From the bursting blue flames of The Goblet of

HECTIC Holidays!

ROCKFISH

This is Captain James of the USS Ocean Odyssey. It has been four months since dinosaurs appeared in the city and the battle began to drive them out.

The Rockfish has orders to monitor the battle as well as the rebuilding efforts. Over and out!

Looks like the construction crews are busy. But what's that they're doing?

Great! Now that the dinos are driven off, the city can have some holiday spirit again!

Look out!

I think they are being driven off in this direction!

Well, at least it's only a bad rip, it's not totally destroyed.

I can't stand it...

Wow, a T-1 Typhoon! Where can I get one of those?

Looks like the dino attack isn't over yet! Launch the electro-magnetic disruptors!
Then the undersea explorers!

The crew of the USS Ocean Odyssey are into action!

EMP canisters are a shocking surprise for the reptiles!

Later...

Finished!
And this time
there's no
one to wreck
it!

Hold on! Do you hear something?

I can't stand it...

Well, at least the holiday
sign is still okay
- oh no! Duck!

KRASH KRASH

HO HO HO!

Oh, well,
we didn't really need
a sign anyway...

No, it's enough
just to say - happy holidays
to all!

And happy holidays to all our readers
from your friends at EGO Magazine!

In the story, these towers are constructed of stone held together by Visorak web.

There are a number of these towers in Metru Nui, built as watch towers by the Visorak horde.

LEGO Christmas Tree Lighting November 28

What could be better than the holiday tradition of lighting the Christmas tree? How about the lighting of a Christmas tree made completely out of LEGO bricks?

Join us at LEGOLAND for this one-of-a-kind event! On November 28th at 5:00pm, more than 245,000 forest green DUPLO bricks will click together to create a 30-foot tall holiday tree at LEGOLAND. Covered with more than 240 ornaments and 100 holiday candles, all built from LEGO basic brick, the LEGO brick tree will tower over The Beginning in the Park for the third year in a row!

There is only one place in the U.S. where you can find an entire Christmas tree made from LEGO bricks. LEGOLAND!

Ornament Building at St. Nick's Brick Shop November 25 - 28

Get a head start on the holidays this year at the LEGOLAND special ornament building event. Stop by St. Nick's Brick Shop in The Beginning to participate in our festive Ornament Building November 25 - 28.

Choose from several styles of holiday-themed Build and Buy ornament kits, enjoy live entertainment and maybe even meet a real Master Model Builder!

Holiday Block Party December 17 - December 30

Come build Holiday memories during our 6th annual Holiday Block Party - December 17 through 30. The Park will be decked out with twinklin' lights, jolly music and a 30-foot LEGO Christmas tree.

There's even a life-sized Santa and reindeer built entirely from LEGO - perfect for that one-of-a-kind holiday photo. December 17 - 23: Join the Blizzard Building event where you can build your very own LEGO snowflake. December 23 - 30: Spread the cheer all day long and cap it off with a dazzling fireworks display at Park close over Miniland USA.

Kid's New Year's Eve December 31

6pm is Midnight at this kid exclusive bash, so bed time won't stop you from having fun! That's right! New Year's Eve parties aren't just for adults anymore! Join us on December 31 for our one-of-a-kind Kids' New Year's Eve Party.

The fun starts at 3 pm with entertainment in Miniland, followed by a concert with special guests at 4 pm.

Then at 5 pm join us for a rockin' year in review with high energy dance tunes!

Then at Midnight (6pm), watch the 22-foot-tall LEGO "Brick Drop" and ring in the New Year with a spectacular fireworks show complete with special fireworks viewing glasses. It's a New Year's you'll never forget!
